

Unlimited artistic possibilities

Perception and emotion are part of the design and interior decoration of public buildings. The Bolidtop® Design series enables architects, designers, planners and users to incorporate these elements by offering virtually unlimited artistic possibilities in colour and design. Bolidtop® Sensation, Bolidtop® FiftyFifty and Bolidtop® Print are a number of flooring systems that belong to the Bolidtop® Design series.

Bolidtop® Sensation: VMBO-West College

The Dutch VMBO-West College has chosen the Bolidtop® Sensation system. Beusen Maas Verheijden Architects have played with miscellaneous colours in this school. The classrooms and hallways were fitted with Bolidtop® Sensation in grey tones. The staff rooms were fitted with a bright purple coloured version of the same system. This creates a clear division between the student areas and the ones for teachers. The furniture, the walls and the flooring in the VMBO-West College are excellently matched.

Bolidtop® FiftyFifty: The Rotunda

Bolidtop® FiftyFifty is the latest addition to the Bolidtop® Design series. This system is characterized by the use of two contrasting colours in the synthetic finish which produces a lively three-dimensional effect. The head office of the Dutch AA has been laid out like a roundabout. While walking around, visitors can get all the information they need on the services offered by the AA. The architect translated the AA's wishes with respect to the flooring into the Bolidtop® FiftyFifty system.

Bolidtop® Print: Bos en Lommer council offices

The combination of a special digital printing technique and a selection of exotic synthetic resins has resulted in Bolidtop® Print. The council of the Bos en Lommer district decided to incorporate a scaled map from the beginning of the last century in the floor of its offices. The highly transparent finish gives the illusion of floating while walking over the city.

Bolidtop® Sensation: Maks Hairdressing Academy

At the Maks Hairdressing Academy students do not only learn the ropes of the hairdressing trade, but also how to manage a salon. The interior of the Hairdressing Academy looks like a real hairdressing salon. Washbasins, hairdresser's chairs, mirrors, but also a fitting floor finish. An important functional requirement for a salon floor is that it should be easy to maintain. In addition, however, the floor needs to harmonize with the salon's interior. In this case, Maks modern interior was matched by colourful decorations in the floor.

Bolidtop® FiftyFifty: Blokker

The Dutch company Blokker recently expanded its chain of household shops with a series of Blokker garden shops. These shops are often located outside towns in furniture shopping areas and sell everything you could possibly need for your garden. For these shops, Blokker has chosen a different set up than for its regular shops. The Bolidtop® FiftyFifty system fits in perfectly with the new design. Light and dark grey bring a lively atmosphere to the shops. The system is known for its good functional qualities when it comes to foot traffic and ease of maintenance. Very important in shops like Blokker!

Bolidtop® Print: ROC Teleport

ROC Teleport looks like an entire department store offering a whole range of technical courses under one roof. The floors in the building are situated around an atrium. As you enter the building, the unexpected view takes you by surprise. The spacious looking atrium with its bright red floor and a large oil stain in the middle makes for quite a unique entrance. The aim of the architect was to modernize the image of education with this Bolidtop® Print system. The oil stain was applied to the floor through a special printing technique, combined with synthetic resins.
